

his hands off the Senatorship in every State except New-York. When Mr. Murphy hears this he will probably remark that the policy of non-interference, like charity, ought to begin at home.

evident that the larger appropriation should have been made twelve months ago rather than now, within less than four months of the opening of the Fair. It would appear to be proper, however, for the Governor to make a full and complete apology to the merchants whom he treated with such discourtesy last January.

to this project before. The original contributor was Mrs. Jared Sparks, and Oliver Wendell Holmes soon followed her.

When Charles Theodore Russell, father of Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, was Mayor of Cambridge away back in war days, he and his family spent a good part of every Christmas at the Almshouse, entertaining the inmates. Indeed, the Russells attended devotional exercises on Sunday in the Almshouse chapel frequently, and became familiar figures in the institution.

Bishop Nelson of Wisconsin, formerly a Philadelphia pastor, tells this story with much relish: A country parsonage called on him, and in the course of the conversation declared his sentiments on the wise: "We all like you, Bishop, on our way, be cause you are so darned common." The bishop said that the parson had discovered that the utterance was meant for a hearty compliment.

Some one having asked Mr. Gladstone the secret of his remarkable activity, he replied with a story. There was once a road leading out of London of which he had heard. He went to see it, and he found it revealed more horses died than any other road in the world. He asked the reason, and he was told that the road revealed the force of animals in travelling over it used only one set of muscles.

William Lloyd Garrison's statue in bronze, of colossal size, will be unveiled in Newburyport next month of July.

Bernhardt's son Maurice, who retired from public notice soon after his marriage to the rich Russian lady, Princess Joldeneff, has been so extravagant that his father-in-law has asked for a legal "separation of property." She does not wish to lose her fortune.

Colonel Carroll D. Wright, who has been reappointed Commissioner of Labor for four years more by President Harrison, will probably resign, it is said, when Mr. Cleveland comes in, but it is regarded doubtful whether his resignation will be accepted.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

Eastern Young Sunday-school Teacher.—Now boys, what must we all do to go to Heaven?
Bright boy.—Die.

She knew the Infant Mind.—"Rah Joo," said Chapple to a young woman at the church fair, "you seem to be a sort of er—ah intellectual sympathy between us, don't cher know. Aw you literary or something of the sort?"

—answered: "I am a teacher in the kindergarten."—(Indianapolis Journal).

"The Little Lute In Mountan," doesn't believe allowing its readers to puzzle over unusual abbreviations, over a dispatch holding to "Mr. Satoll, which it printed the other day, it had the words "Manager satoll" in big black letters; and now the Little people believe that the gentleman in question is the "Manager" of His Holiness.

The March of Science.—Hiram—Well, SI, I heard ye bin down to Bosha.

—Sias—Well, ye heard right, HI; I was ther night onto a week.

Hiram—Well, hev they got anything diffrunt ther from what they've got down to Baitheeler?

—Sias—Infrrunt! Well, ye must ter go ther' once.

Hiram—Well, hev they bin hold again' on a hundred and they pull em round with a little wire no bigger'n a straw.—(Boston Courier).

There is said to be an adventurer in Connecticut who paints his "ad" on cows in fields contiguous to the railroads.

His End of Insomniac.—Young Prettywilde—Doctor, I'm suffering from insomnia. Can you suggest a remedy?

Dr. Spaulin—Certainly. Don't stay up all night.—(Chicago News Record).

"The Hartford Post" tells how a bill collector stepped into an office the other day, and seeing the debtor talking to a number of lady friends, waited till he had had his fill.

Then he collected with a very pleasant manner and said: "I will loan you this much to-day. Come again when you are hard up," and smiled one of those smiles that crack a looking-glass.

A Preliminary to Charity.—"Mamma," said Little Willie, "I cannot tell a lie. I took that pie to feed a poor little starving boy."
"My darling child," said his mother, "and did the poor little fellow eat it?"
"Yes, mother, I couldn't find any starving boy to give it to, so I had to eat it myself."—(Chicago News Record.)

A "father" who sells prize packages never says that there is a prize in every package. Such a statement would be altogether too weak for him. He always speaks of a prize in "each and every package." Each and every father loves the phrase so much that he uses it each and every time.

Twenty years ago the foreign-born Portuguese in Brazil were 49.8 per cent of the whole, the Germans 18.8, half of late years' immigrants. The Italians have chosen Brazil for their settlement, with surprising results. From 1883 to 1890 the number of Italian immigrants rose from 1,000 to 10,000, and in the whole number; the Portuguese came next, with 20.9, and the Germans have dropped to 9.9 per cent, being almost equal to the Italians. The Italian agency is even more marked. From 1879 to 1888, 67.4 per cent of the immigrants were Italians, 32.6 were Germans, with 4.5 in Argentine. In 1890, 75.9 per cent of the immigrants were Italians, 24.1 Germans, and 0.1 Argentine. In 1887 the population of 600,000 in round figures contained no less than 280,000 Italians, and in 1891, alone, 39,122 were added to it.—The Edinburgh Review.

never had a church.

Revenge—Simson—Why, Willie, you must have been in a terrible fight.

Willie—Yes, I was; I got licked by the minister's son.

"What did he suit you for?"

"He told me to wash my clothes you sent him, and he said that was the only way he could get even."

MORE INTEREST THAN PRINCIPLE.

From The Boston Journal.

The fact that the power of future Federal patronage has been mercilessly used by the Mugwump opponents of Murphy robs the New-York Senatorship right of all semblance of principle and reduces it to a vulgar squabble of factious.

A REPUBLIC PREFERRED.

From The Indianapolis Journal.

paper. Chiefly because but one political party is the vote-counters, who are selected by those who hold the officer.

BETTING ON COLLEGE SPORTS.

If the faculty at Yale succeed in prohibiting betting among the students, many paternal purses will feel a sort of ebb tide in their yearly output.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS VALUELESS.
 (From the Albany Express.)

The fact is, in our form of Government there is no remedy against fraudulent elections except with the people themselves. Election frauds will not cease until the sovereign people but will grow and swarm, until the sovereign people arise and punish individuals and parties who per-trate them or connive at and profit by them.
